

Research

The Museum holds records of the 49th, 62nd, 66th and 99th Regiments of Foot, The Royal Berkshire Regiment, The Wiltshire Regiment, RGBW, and the Duke of Edinburgh's Royal Regiment.

Our Museum archive team use our records for a variety of research tasks, including academic research, history books and family history requests.

We charge a fee for our research, based on day's work and the preparation of a response. Research fees are levied on a not-for-profit basis and all money received contributes to the conservation of our collection.

The Rifles Berkshire & Wiltshire Museum

About Us

The Rifles Berkshire & Wiltshire Museum is home to the heritage of Berkshire and Wiltshire's infantry regiments.

With thousands of objects in our collection, the museum tells the story of The Rifles and its antecedent regiments from the eighteenth century to the modern day.

Situated in 'The Wardrobe', a historic medieval building in Salisbury's Cathedral Close, the museum represents our local military heritage.

Rifleman's Table

Situated next to the museum, the Rifleman's Table Café & Kitchen is open all week, serving freshly-made breakfast, lunch and afternoon tea.

Venue Hire

Whether you are booking a meeting or planning a more substantial event, such as a wedding, a lunch or a dinner, The Wardrobe is the perfect spot for any occasion.

Our Regimental Room is a registered venue for wedding ceremonies and our garden is the perfect venue for receptions. We work with in-house caterers, Vanilla Catering, to organise your special day. Please visit our website for more information.

Walled Garden

Our gardener takes great care of our beautiful walled garden, which can be hired for a host of events. Museum visitors can also enjoy the garden as part of their ticket admission and kids can storm the gates of our wooden fort!

Ghost Hunts & Paranormal Evenings

The Wardrobe is home to more than just military history! Paranormal groups regularly hire our venue for ghost hunts. Get in contact with us for more details.
